

The River of Money

The banks along the river are to keep the water in its proper course. It is a natural place for the water to run. The natural place for money is in the bank. The natural place for money to circulate is through the bank. Money scattered promiscuously does nobody good, but like the river in the desert becomes absorbed and dissipated. The bank gathers together the funds of a community and loans it out where it will do the most good for all concerned. Do your part by directing your money into the proper channel.

John Dunn, was called to Nashville by telegram last Monday on account of the serious illness of his son, Clarence Dunn, who has been at work at the powder plant. Young Dunn has pneumonia and is quite sick.

Esmond Hawkins writes home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hawkins, that he had been slightly wounded in action. He did not give particulars, and his people are hopeful that the injury is not of a serious nature. Young Hawkins, if we mistake not, went over during the month of August.

H. A. Holland is in charge of some road work in the Fifth district that is said to be putting the roads in very fine condition. We are told that the roads of that district are in better shape than they have been in a long while.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jackson, of McLemoresville, have heard from their son, Willie, who was reported severely wounded in France. His wounds are not so serious as was feared and he is getting along nicely.

Mrs. J. W. Murphy, who has been in Memphis for a couple of weeks training in Red Cross work, spent the week end with home folk, and left Sunday for Union City for a three weeks' course there before returning to Memphis to complete her course.

Dr. Mallory Smith motored over from Fulton, the latter part of last week and was accompanied home by Mrs. Kenneth Priest and Miss Nannie Payne. Miss Payne was away a couple of days, but Mrs. Priest remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. W. J. Yarbrough received several letters from her son, Gilbert, this week, being the first she had received from him since he had landed in France. His last letter had been written near the close of his voyage. Gilbert was well and happy and expressed himself as being well pleased with his surroundings, having the time of his life.

Mose Priest writes home from France, that he has been in the thickest of the fight. He says he went between thirty and forty days without taking off his clothes and all that time was in the service on the front. He says he saw many of his friends fall about him, but up to the time he wrote this letter he had escaped injury.

Mrs. R. A. Greene received a letter this week from her son, Tom Greene, announcing the fact that he had been slightly gassed, but was getting along fine. He was in the thick of the fighting and took part in some mighty hard battles. Tom assured his mother that he was having a good time in spite of the hardships of the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Vawter received this week letters from their son, Noel Vawter, who is in the government service in France. Young Vawter has been gassed and is in the hospital, and while he does not speak of his condition as being serious, yet it is giving him considerable trouble. His last letter intimated that he would have to undergo an operation. His parents are very anxious about him.

Just before going to press we learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jackson, of McLemoresville, had just received a letter from their son, Willie, who was recently wounded in France. His condition was not so encouraging as indicated in a letter received a short time before, reference to which is made in another column of the Democrat. We understand he was not doing well and his people are very much concerned about him.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McCollum received a letter this week from their son, Ernest McCollum, who had been in the thickest of the fighting. Mr. McCollum said he saw J. Wesley McDade, of the Nineteenth district, when he was killed. The company was entering the battle, and had just gone over the top the first time, when young McDade was cut down by a German machine gun bullet. They were together and were very special friends. Mr. McCollum says young McDade was a mighty fine young man.

John Foster's barn was burned last Sunday night. Mr. Foster lives on the road between Huntingdon and McLemoresville, on route No. 5 out from Huntingdon. He does not know how the fire originated. His stock were in the barn when the fire was discovered, but they were gotten out. Quite a lot of feed stuff was burned. We did not learn the estimated loss or whether or not there was any insurance. Mrs. Lynn Lewis, of the same community, lost her barn by fire just a short time ago. Her barn is being rebuilt, the public assisting in the work.

Oversea Letters

Oversea letters commenced coming in the first of the week, and quite a number have been received up to this time. It had been nearly a month since any had come, with the exception of just a few occasionally. Most of the letters being received this week bear dates of from October 20 to November 4. While the letters bring much joy and comfort to those receiving them, yet they do not relieve the anxiety about the boys believed to have been in the last fighting, as no letters have yet reached here written after the armistice was signed.

Buys a Farm

C. M. Watson, the hustling cotton dealer, has invested in a good little farm near Huntingdon. Last week he purchased the J. C. Lamber farm, about two miles south of town on the Lexington road. The price paid was $4,000. We are not advised as to Mr. Lambert's intentions, or what his purpose was in selling.

Baptist Gifts

The Baptists of Tennessee gave last year to the various causes fostered by the denomination the following amounts: Christian Education, $28,000; Foreign Missions, $45,350.53; Home Missions, $33,140.21; State Missions, $49,235.39; Ministerial Relief, $3,382.90; Orphanage, $27,897.66. Total for all purposes, $171,806.36.

Bank Building Changes

The Farmers State Bank, having purchased the Johnson building on the northeast corner of the square, is placing brick on the ground for the vault. The interior of the building will be remodeled. The front of the west room will be cut off from the remainder of the interior of the building and converted into the banking department. The remainder of the ground floor will continue to be occupied by Mrs. Jamison. The stairway to the upper rooms will be changed from the front to the side of the building and just back of the bank. Work on the improvement will be begun before a great while.

Sells His Farm

J. B. Brecken, Carroll county's enterprising tax assessor, sold his farm in the Thirteenth district last week to Homer Jowers. The consideration was $5,000 and Mr. Jowes will take charge soon. This is a good farm and Mr. Jowers is said to be a very successful farmer.

Memorial Day

A very impressive memorial service was conducted at the First Baptist church in McKenzie Sunday in honor of their soldier dead. Those from that church who have died in the service are: Ray Ward, of the navy, and Lieutenant Earl C. Smith, of the medical department. Dr. Smith died in France, of pneumonia, and Ward died in a naval hospital in New Orleans.

The church bore decorations of flowers and flags, and the program rendered consisted of prayer by Rev. G. L. Johnson of the Presbyterian church, scripture lesson by the pastor, Rev. A. R. McGehee; solo by J. L. Thomason, memorial address by D. A. Burkhalter, remarks by the pastor, J. D. Mullens, D. A. Mays, J. L. Thomason and E. K. Wiley, solo by Mrs. V. C. Fulghum. The choir rendered special numbers.
